Earlier also in 2002, an Inter-Ministerial Fact Finding Committee (FFC) consisting of two senior officers from Department of Disinvestment and Ministry of Labour and two members from Labour Organisations was constituted by the Ministry of Labour to assess whether lay off/retrenchment had been resorted to by the new management and also whether there were any deviation from Shareholders' Agreement (SHA) signed with the Government in respect of clauses dealing with labour issues.

The FFC which submitted its report in September, 2004, did not find any instance of lay off in BALCO post disinvestment. The FFC also could not find any instance of departure from the terms of the Transaction Agreement other than the payment of Voluntary Retirement Scheme (VRS) dues in five instalments. BALCO had informed that deferred payment in instalments was considered with the consent of individual VRS optees.
